Chancellor's Strategic Communications Planning Meeting

and courses for registration marketing, developing attention on student and faculty member success stories, continuing media engagement relationships and positioning of WCCCD's facilities and programs, as well as the growing importance of community colleges at the local, regional and national levels, were all discussed.

Continuing their work on strategic communication goals for the 2013-2014 fiscal year, representatives from Bassett & Bassett and Cognos Advertising met with Chancellor Ivery and WCCCD staff members to develop plans to highlight and promote events and programs at all five campuses, including the District's high-tech facilities, MIPSE and health care training facilities, and the simulation lab at the Northwest Campus. Discussion targeting new, high-demand programs

I wanted to share the following entry from Dr. Walter Bumphus' AACC CEO Board Update-- a monthly report that is sent to all community college chancellors/presidents across the country: "I delivered the commencement address to Wayne County Community College District (WCCCD) graduates. The commencement was held at Ford Field, home of the Detroit Lions, and each guest on the dais was treated to having a personal locker stall. The WCCCD commencement is one of he largest and most impressive ceremonies that I have attended."

SIM LAB Open House

The second Health Science Interdisciplinary Simulation Laboratory Open House hosted by WCCCD School of Continuing Education and Workforce Development at the Northwest Campus Health Science Center was held on Wednesday. One of the participating students stated: " We had the most amazing experience ever being a part of the first Mission of Mercy event held in Michigan! It was extremely humbling to give service to people in need who haven't smiled in years, who by the end of the treatment were filled with joy and smiling from ear to ear. To We truly look forward to volunteering our knowledge and skills in the future to a wonderful organization like Mission of Mercy."

FINANCE AND ADMINISTRATION

The General Accounting Division has begun preparation for the Fiscal Year End Cycle. A college's financial health is the core of their existence and strategic alignment with the mission, vision, and direction of the institution. Assessing the institution's financial health and financial risk is a critical step in developing strategies and effectively managing intutional risk. A comprehensive ratio analysis provides institutional leaders and constituents with the ability to examine liquidity, profitability, solvency, and cash flow. A comprehensive ratio analysis helps to manage, support, and aligned the institutions financial resources with the direction of the institution.

DIVISION OF STUDENT SERVICES

TRIO

The TRIO-Student Support Services recently opened a TRIO-SSS Store and began an incentive program rewarding eligible students for their participation in grant funded activities. Students earn TRIO-SSS Tokens for their involvement in academic support workshops, university visits and cultural events. Students then can redeem the tokens in the store to purchase TRIO-SSS branded items such as backpacks, coffee mugs and school supplies. This initiative is designed to promote awareness and interest in TRIO-SSS and motivate students to remain active.

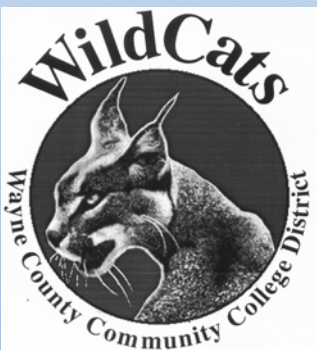

TRIO-SSS is a federally funded grant program sponsored by the United State Department of Education. The goal of TRIO-SSS is to increase the college retention and graduation rates of its participants and help students make the transition from one level of higher education to the next.

Student Executive Council Enhancing Campus Grounds

The Northwest Campus Student Executive Council member, Antionette Davis, rallied the Northwest Campus staff to join in on enhancing the beauty of campus grounds with flowers. Every day that Ms. Davis enters the attractive campus entrance decorated with colorful floral arrangements she is pleasantly reminded of all the hard work she and staff members did. Community service is an important facet of the mission of the SEC and Ms. Davis is proud to have represented the Council well in the district-wide campus beautification project.

WCCCD's Athletic Director and Men's Basketball coach, Roger Turner, attended the Michigan Community College Athletic Association Athletic Director's Conference. Community college athletic directors from throughout Michigan attended the conference. The directors discussed the past season's successes and challenges and were updated to the upcoming rules and regulations for the 2013-2014 academic years.

Events like the Annual Recognition and Appreciation Dinner help TRIO – SSS to increase student success by fostering an institutional climate supportive of nontraditional students who are underrepresented in postsecondary education.

DIVISION OF EDUCATIONAL AFFAIRS

The Completion Agenda is comprised of many different activities that combined, lead to student success. One of these activities involves Program Reviews of the different Career Programs at WCCCD. A great example occurred this week while reviewing the Veterinary Technology Program. This program is one of the few in the state that prepares students to act as a Veterinary Technology Assistant. Housed on the Wayne State Campus, this program will graduate 27 students this year, all of whom have secured employment. More importantly, this program provides students with great opportunities to work with animals of all sizes, from mice to cows and horses, providing them with great experiences that will serve them well in their future employment.
