Representatives Josh Castle and Jack Debaar from Higher One facilitated this week's Refund Management Project Meeting with District team members. The purpose of this meeting was to focus on implementation of a new refund management system offering our students new options and advantages in receiving their residual financial aid. The presentation included Title IV regulations, data security, card and refund process review, card configuration, and Higher One support access. Weekly team meetings will be scheduled throughout the implementation process. Beginning in January 2015, WCCCD students will have three options for receiving their refunds: paper check, direct deposit into an existing bank account, or open a Higher One checking (debit card) account.

Payroll on schedule despite the power outage!

This week, the City of Detroit experienced a massive power outage, the District Office Building was among the numerous buildings affected. The new back-up generator recently installed as part of the District Information Technology (IT) Transformation Plan (ITTP) allowed our Payroll Department, with the assistance of IT, to work seamlessly through the outage and remain on schedule with this week's payroll process.

In the Mail...

Dr. Ivery,

While many take for granted or overlook the aesthetics of a building and operation, I tend to take notice of everything, including the little things. Upon a recent visit to the Downtown Campus, I noticed and appreciated how clean it was (and always is)--from the lobby to the floors and including the bathrooms. To me, it is a reflection of many things--from leadership setting and upholding a standard of excellence to a sense of ownership by every staff member. It also speaks volumes about how much the college and its team cares about those who work, visit or patronize the facility.

I simply wanted to share this, and let you know that the care, commitment and attention to detail by you and your team is duly noted, and sincerely appreciated.

Thank you. Karen Dumas

Managing grants can be a complex function within an organization. The School of Continuing Education and Workforce Development centrally maintains uniform procedures, advises and supports grant initiatives and maintains a catalog of funding agencies, requests and agreements. A Grants Taskforce is comprised of key divisional administrators, and has been established to ensure District alignment and support necessary for effective grant implementation at the District.

Tuition Reimbursement Program

Tuition assistance is available to full-time and part-time regular staff. Employees are eligible for reimbursement between $500 and $2,000 depending on their union classification status. Employees must pass the class with a “satisfactory” mark in order to be reimbursed. Tuition reimbursement forms should be turned in immediately after the semester ends with proof of grades and proof of payment.

Employee Tuition Waiver Program (ETWP) Four Year Assessment

Employee Tuition Reimbursement Program(ETRP)
Four Year Assessment

All regular employees, their spouse and dependent children, who have not reached the age of 25 and who are living at home, are eligible for the tuition waiver program. Proof of registration must be attached to the tuition waiver before submitting it to the Division of Human Resources (HR). Part-time faculty must be teaching during a particular semester in order to be eligible for a tuition waiver that semester. Proof of teaching must be presented to the HR at the time of tuition waiver submittal. Spring 2015 tuition waivers are due in HR by Monday, January 12, 2015. Waiver forms can be found at www.wcccd.edu under the Human Resources section.

Diversity Competency

Diversity competency is one of the components of organizational culture that builds trust, respect, integrity, communication, organizational climate and its branding. Diversity is evidently a point of pride for WCCCD. To celebrate our commitment to diversity/inclusion we are developing an action plan to invite District-wide participation, engagement and involvement in developing cultural competencies.

Dr. Fidelis D’Cunha will lead efforts in coordinating the process through scheduled workshops. These integral workshops will help us embrace our inherent diversity and experience of inclusion, sensitize all to the differences, similarities and unique individual characteristics. Stay tuned!

WEEKLY UPDATE

This week, the City of Detroit experienced a massive power outage. Part of the city including our District Administration building and the Downtown and Eastern campuses were affected by the power outage.

As a part of the Information Technology Transformation Plan (ITTP) the infrastructure upgrade and data center modernization included a backup generator. The generator was installed to support the data center for business continuity in an event of a power loss.

During the power outage the backup generator kicked in automatically powering the data center for a seamless operation. The banner system and other day-to-day operational servers were operational District-wide.

In addition to the data center, we prepared an Emergency Operations Center (EOC) equipped with computers and power feed from the generator. We were able to instantly activate the EOC to ensure critical business functions within the district can operate during a power outage. The payroll and accounts payable staff were able to utilize the work space to process critical and time sensitive information.

This incident demonstrates the District's readiness for unforeseen circumstances to continue serving our students, faculty, and staff 24/7 with no system interruptions.

Division of Institutional Effectiveness

WCCCD and National Research Trends

The Division of Institutional Effectiveness reviews research from consortia and national surveys to compare our college with trends for community colleges. The Survey of Entering Student Engagement (SENSE) is a research-based tool that provides data related to:

- ❑ student behaviors in the earliest weeks of college
- ❑ institutional practices that affect students during this critical time

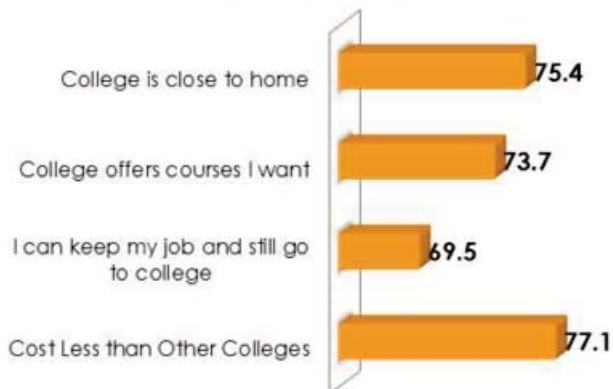

Source: <http://www.ccsse.org/sense>

WCCCD Entering Student Surveys Findings

WCCCD surveys entering students much like the SENSE that asks, "From the time of your decision to attend this college through the end of the first three weeks of your first semester, please rate your level of agreement and/or level of importance in the following areas"

Top Areas of Importance for Attending WCCCD

- ❑ 67.1% reported WCCCD as their first and/or only college choice
- ❑ 59.3% prefer to take classes during weekdays with 19.5% preferring weekdays and weekends
- ❑ 61.2% reported registration process being convenient
- ❑ 57.9% travel 6 miles or less to WCCCD

Continuing Education Leading the Way

According to an article on the Milwaukee Wisconsin online Journal Sentinel, continuing education is an area that provides competitive edge for job-hunters. It was noted that more Americans are returning to school to add skills and credentials to their work portfolio. It further noted that many professions require candidates to have certifications and licenses to merely qualify for employment opportunities.

DTE Energy®

Over the past years, the School of Continuing Education and Workforce Development have played a vital role partnering with a number of organizations offer dynamic training opportunities. Those trainings include:

Urban League of Detroit & Southeastern Michigan

- * DTE – Math and Mechanical Technology Training
- * Advance Manufacturing Training
- * Infosys – IT Bootcamp Training
- * Urban League of Detroit and Southeastern Michigan – Mature Workers Computerized Training
- * UST Global – Step IT Up in America

Student Incentives

At the Western Campus, two groups of students were provided with incentives for being a part of new programs and for completion of coursework. Heating, Ventilation and Air Conditioning students starting the program received briefcase tool bags. Digital Photography students received camera backpacks for their incentive. All students receiving the gifts completed coursework in the program with a "C" or better and registered for the next set of academic coursework starting in January 2015. Congratulations to everyone!

WCCCD and American Promise School Partnership

WCCCD and American Promise Schools are in the early phases of formalizing a partnership that will offer a college bridge program and career success path program for their high school students. The launch date is schedule for Summer 2015. American Promise Schools' goal is to lead a campaign to meet a 75% college-going target for Detroit's children. Their goal is to create a replicable prototype for turning around failing urban high schools and implement that design at scale in the city. Currently, APS is managing the following three Detroit area schools: Jalen Rose Leadership Academy High School, Consortium College Preparatory High School and Voyageur Academy (K-8).

Distance Learning

The WCCCD Center for Distance Learning is equipped with an Apple iMac computer lab which is currently used for our Harper Woods High School dual enrollment courses. These students are taking Digital Media Production classes which use the Final Cut Pro editing software which is used by almost half of the professional editing market in the U.S. This computer lab will also be used as the editing suite for video and audio productions created within the onsite media lab. ## Office of Career Education

According to a recent report from the Bureau of Labor Market Information and Strategic Initiatives, our skilled trades workers are contributing to our state's economy, playing an important role in its economic recovery and its expansion. In response to this concern, President Obama has set goals to help American workers get the skills and credentials they need to succeed.

WCCCD is working collaboratively with the Department of Labor, Skilled Trades and Apprenticeship Office to meet the business needs and open up educational training for individuals interested in a career in the skilled trades.

Health Education Systems, Inc. Exam

Future nursing students recently sat for the Health Education Systems, Inc. (HESI) exam which is a software-based standardized test customized for nursing students. This standardized exam measures the test taker in a number of subject areas, including reading comprehension, vocabulary, grammar, math, and sciences.

Faculty Evaluations

The evaluation of full-time and part-time faculty assists the faculty and administration to identify and encourage excellence in the faculty. There are four major goals of faculty evaluation:

- * Emphasize a positive approach to teaching and learning
- * Confirm areas of strong performance and areas for improvement
- * Discuss evaluation results with the faculty
- * Reflect the faculty's engagement in their own professional development and scholarship activities

The Fall 2014 faculty evaluations have been completed at all campus locations and distance learning. The pie chart identifies the percentages of evaluations conducted at each campus.

International Programs and Global Partnerships

Country Profile: Vietnam

As in other countries, Vietnam's stage of development, the education system has not kept pace with the economy and is unable to meet the exponentially growing demand for skilled labor. The official estimate is that there are 60,000 young Vietnamese studying abroad. According to Open Doors, Australia is the world's leading host of Vietnamese students followed by the United States. Dan Nguyen, an international student from Vietnam shares her experience at WCCCD.

"I am writing to express my sincere gratitude to WCCCD for making my future possible. I am presently enrolled in the Associates Degree Program. I plan to pursue career in the health care industry after I graduate in 2015. As a foreign student from Vietnam, my family has made many sacrifices to allow me to follow my dream. I am sure that with the support of the teachers at WCCCD and hard work, I will be able to achieve my dreams."
