Student Services Function

Intrusive Advising: 5 Traits of Successful Proactive Advising Programs at WCCCD

The WCCCD advising core uses a myriad advising strategies to assist the diverse student body.

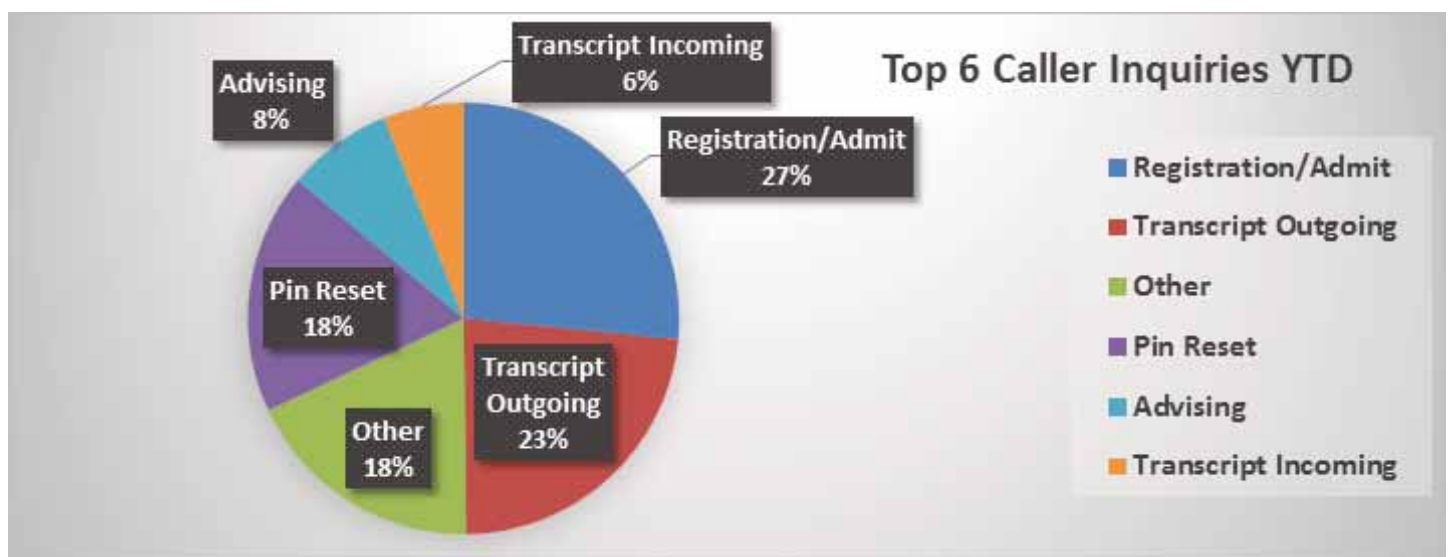

Intentional: A purposeful approach to help students plan, reflect, learn, and take action

Proactive: Using timely outreach and targeted interventions

Relational: Building relationships with the student built on trust and respect

Holistic: Meeting the students where they are and building a plan that will assist with growth and success

Accessible: Having access to advisors for drop-ins, appointments, and general assemblies
Inclusive: Understanding that our student body is diverse and having support strategies that assists all students

During registration, the Division of Student Services manages various student inquiries on a daily basis. The chart above reflects the “Top 6 Student Inquiries” for 2018 year to date.

Faculty Innovations and Learning

Instructor Daphne Kasprzak (Medical Office Specialist) was excited about the many professional development opportunities provided by the District that led to her receiving an instructional tool in support of teaching and learning in the classroom.

Adjunct Faculty

Creating a positive and safe learning environment is one of the core values at WCCCD. Instructors and staff are committed to providing all of the instructional and academic related support students need to be successful. The Division of Educational Affairs supports the following useful tips suggested by the Eberly Center for Teaching Excellence and Educational Innovation, Carnegie Mellon University:

- ❖ Use of campus resources
- ❖ Maintaining communication with students
- ❖ Encouraging positive outcomes early

Blackboard: Retention Center Tool

The Retention Center is a tool in Blackboard that provides an easy way for faculty to discover which students in your course are at risk. Based on preconfigured rules and rules you create, students' engagement and participation are visually displayed, quickly alerting you to potential risk. From the Retention Center, you can communicate with struggling students and help them take immediate action for improvement. Additionally, you can use your course activity information to prioritize which areas of your course to attend to first.

Division of Human Resources

Human Resources: Reviewing Employee Handbook

An Employee Handbook is a valuable communication tool for both employers and employees. The Employee Handbook is a tool that can be found on the Human Resources webpage <http://www.wcccd.edu/dept/pdf/HR/employeehandbookwcccd.pdf>

As a part of ongoing self-audit, the Division of Human Resources is currently reviewing the handbook for the following:

- Time and leave policies
- Overtime policies
- FMLA policies
- Tuition Waiver and Reimbursement Policy
- Employment verification
- Background verification
- Performance evaluation
- New employment orientation

Human Resources Employees Benefits Reconciliation

As part of the Division of Human Resources continuous audit process, we are in the midst of reconciling the third quarter of 2018 for the following benefit accounts:

- Medical insurance of employees and their eligible dependents
- Life insurance and retirement account
- Dental insurance
- Flexible Spending Account (FSA)
